PROJECTS

FIT-OUT PERMISSIONS

Commercial Interior Design can be defined as a process that involves creating and amplification of the construction or renovation of a commercial space. It is simply the utilization of the given space that may turn out to be beneficial for the company, while also creating an appropriate and productive working environment for the employees. The process is carried out by using a space layout and then evaluating the workstation's position. Typically, you will find them in the form of a shell and core. Furthermore, gypsum walls and metal are used to separate each cabin while designing the offices.

F&B FIT-OUT

One of the most crucial parts of serving the food is the infrastructure and ambiance of the place.

Firstly, we draw out the layouts to maximize the practical use of operational space as well as the architectural and design concepts of the plan. And, then we carefully inspect the space to ensure that the right materials are used during the development and each process is performed with perfection. We aim to complete the work in an incredible way that satisfies our client's requirements, helping us maintain a long-term working relationship with our clients. We focus on providing the highest-standard interior design development, and we also make sure that only the finest materials are used during the development. Moreover, all our restaurant interior design developments meet the international and local hygiene standards as well as the municipal guidelines. We give our best efforts in maintaining the quality at every stage of production and execution through our industry-leading safety and quality-control measures.

SALON AND BEAUTY CENTERS

The place where women are going for creating a beauty. Temple of modern beauty, fashionable hairstyles and unusual manicure. Design of beauty salon should give positive emotions to happy customers. You should know not only the target audience, location and work with the latest trends in design to create the perfect design of beauty salon. Designer must feel the style, form – combine them into a composition to create something extraordinary. Royal Ambiance found a connection between elements of the interior, which combined in unique idea of the author. We created the interior of beauty salon, in which used the trivial decor, and, of course, complied with the stringent requirements of the regulation authorities. The team used the appropriate materials of processing, to comply with the degree of lighting and regulatory dimensions. The total content of interior meets all requirements – this is a mandatory condition for creating functional and secure interior of beauty salon.
